

I went to my uncles house in Washington. We stayed at his house for a little while. It was three days. We went to a park near the Ocean we went hiking there. It was a lot of fun. After we were almost done my uncle had to go to work. So we had to start over. And we had a snack then my other uncle came and we finished our walk. And we saw a crab. And I got a lot of shells and one was really big. And we went down to the Ocean and we dipped our feet in. Then we left.
